MANAGER COMMENTARY

May was a positive month for the global equity markets, with the UK, US, Europe, and Japan all showing strong performance. The US equity market ended the month with a rise of 4.8%³ for the S&P 500 index. This was followed by a 3.8%³ increase in the European markets as measured by the Morgan Stanley Capital International European Index. In the UK, the index of all companies was in third place with a respectable rise of just over 1.6%³. In contrast, the Shanghai Composite (the Chinese market) was down by 0.58%³.

The bond markets also saw significant shifts in May. In the UK, the yield curve steepened, with 2-year yields dropping by just under 2%³ while the 10-year yields increased by around 1%³. In the US, however, yield inversion continued with the 2-year yields dropping by 3.03%³ and the 10-year end of the market was down by 3.67%³. This reduction in the bond yields in the US led to a weaker dollar, causing Sterling to appreciate by just under 2%³, ending the month at $1.2739.

In May, the Fund had a positive return of 0.92%³ almost in line with its benchmark of 0.99%³. At asset allocation level, UK equities, overseas equities and fixed income contributed positively to the Fund's performance with returns of 3.80%³, 0.25%³ and 1%³ respectively. In contrast, property with a return of negative 0.2%³ and alternative assets return of minus 0.8%³ were the two detractors of performance. Premier Miton Responsible UK Equity was the best performing fund with a return of just over 6%³, followed by the Janus Henderson Global Sustainable Equity Fund returning 4%³. There were no significant changes during the month, as the managers are comfortable with the current holdings. With the prospects of lower interest rates drawing closer, your managers remain cautiously optimistic.
