MANAGER COMMENTARY

February proved to be a mixed bag for the markets. In general, there were gains in equities while the bond markets suffered losses. Bond yields in developed markets increased, and hopes of early interest rate cuts were dashed. In the United States, the index of the top 500 companies rose by a healthy 5.17%², but this was dwarfed by the Shanghai Composite index increase of 8.12%². The Japanese Topix didn't do too badly either, with an increase of just under 5%². In contrast, the UK top 100 stock index barely changed, while the all-stocks index was down by 0.24%².

In the bond markets, the yields of 10-year US Treasuries and UK Gilts increased by 7.24%² and 8.56%², respectively. The DXY (US Dollar Index) was marginally stronger, ending the month at 104.16², up by 0.86%².

The fund rose by 1.93%³ in the month, outperforming the benchmark return of 1.52%³. At asset allocation level, the largest positive contributors to performance were overseas and UK equities, with absolute returns of 4%³ and 1%³, respectively. In contrast, property was the biggest detractor with a negative return of 3%³. At holdings level, Aikya Global Emerging Markets was by far the best performer with a return of 6.5%³; in contrast, PRS REIT, with a focus on the private rented sector, was the largest detractor with a negative return of 8%³. There were no significant changes in the month.
